“ I first met Doug in 2000 when I became choir director and organist at the Milton United Methodist Church. His strong voice and dedication to the choir and the church was a great example to me. He had a talent I envied. My musical talents were at the keyboard and his talent as a singer made it possible in those years for us to share many hours of enjoyment together. We were born in the same era and we both loved classical music, especially choral music, and Ruth and I and Doug and Dottie enjoyed our times together at NJPAC as subscribers of the New Jersey Symphony. We sat in the very last row on the very top of the auditorium, along with his friends, and absorbed the great sounds coming from the stage. We were both financial persons in our careers and shared a friend, Bob Cardell, whose family benefited in many ways from Doug's open and caring personalty. I can only hope to be as good a man as he. I will miss him each day.

Douglas Townsend.
