“ What to say about the most caring, loving, selfless woman I have ever met? It has been nearly a week ago since you left us and I can't even believe it is true. I don't think I will ever truly believe it.... You gave me life... the most profound and unconditional love any child could ever receive. There was never one moment that I ever doubted your love for me and for my children. I hope that I will be half the mom you have been to me and I will make sure my great grandchildren know the story of your life. You deserve to live on and for us all and I will think of you always. I hope you will be the one to greet me with that beautiful smile as I take my last breath. I love you, doesn't do justice for how I feel about you and I can't wait to see you again. Love always and forever your Michele....

“ Carol, I will miss talking to you. I still can't believe your gone. I will miss your smile and I love you. We had wonderful trips to Cape Cod when we were little and when you, Kathi and myself went. We laughed and cried together. We walked the beach and had the strawberry shortcake. Played cards all night and got sprayed by the juices from Kathi's lobster. Remember when we hid behind the bushes and made pig noises to scare mom at Cape Cod. I'm not going to say goodbye because we will meet again. Love always Jan.

“ Carol, Tuddo to me, was always smiling and easy to make laugh. i will remember her always for our trips, with janet, to Cape Cod, Her weekend visits to my house in Pennsylvania and the time she was chased by "jason" at a halloween event we attended. Her sudden, untimely death was a shock to us all and stands as a reminder to everyone how short life truly is and dont wait until tomorrow to express your love to the people in your life. Carol will be greatly missed.

“ *What I loved about you:
You always had time and patience for me
You could make anything out of anything
You introduced me to the Beatles
And cake decorating
You were there for my family when we had hard times
You loved unconditionally
You were always my favorite aunt
You touched more lives than you knew*
