“ Charlie became my best friend and I came to love him very much. He was given a lot of tough breaks in his life but was a fighter to the very end. I saw a lot of his kindness over the past few years and he was always wanting to help others even when he really couldn't do it anymore. May he rest in peace.

“ When you lose a twin brother you lose a bit of yourself as you come into the world as an instant team. We had a terrific childhood and shared friends, sports and sometimes even clothes.

Even though we journeyed on totally different paths in life, we had the commonality of bringing 3 healthy children into the world. This is so important as Charlie's legacy continues through Kyle, Karla & Kelsey. As Sting said, "Inside every new leaf is a pattern of an older tree."

Charlie had a big heart and was unselfish in helping so many people.

He was mechanically gifted and could fix about anything.

He help build and rebuild America while he was a Union Electrician.

He was unlucky to be hit so hard with Lyme Disease and a rare head and neck cancer in which the treatment was painful and debilitating for the past 10 years. Yet he kept on fighting!

I will miss his brotherhood yet I'm also confident in my faith that he is now pain free and right next to my father and that's the reason to rejoice.

Rest in Peace Charlie!

Wonderful tribute Bob, exactly what we are all thinking.

*When we were young, we all lived as though we were immortal.
I don't think Charlie ever stopped living that way.
Now, through the love and memories of his family and friends, Charlie IS immortal.*

My love and thoughts are with the entire Cancalosi family.

“ I'm so saddened at the passing of my lifelong friend Charlie. We first met in 6th grade when he pushed me into my locker! We went on to stay friends for 50 years. He was a loyal, fun loving, true friend to me (and a crazy, challenging at times boyfriend!) I remember one time he drove his dad's car over to my friend's house (without having his driver's license!) to see me and ended up driving over her parent's front lawn! Her dad was very nice about it because he liked Charlie. I don't know why he was called to Heaven so young. I guess God wanted an all-star goalie to play in his soccer match. You are peace and no longer suffering my friend, and for that I am grateful. I love you and will miss you always.

“ I was heartbroken to hear of Charlie’s passing. I’ve known him since the 70’s when my sister Karen introduced us. She always kept me posted on what he was up to and I was personally in touch with him these past several years. We always laughed and talked about his faith in God. I’m so glad he is now in Heaven resting in peace. God bless you Charlie. You will be greatly missed. Susanna Pritchard Brennan
