“ Today I honor and celebrate your life and I thank the Most High God for having put you in my path.

More than a boss you were that earthly angel that God put in my life, to support me when I needed the most and who believed in me as a person.

We shared 13 beautiful years, where I met one of the most empathetic, respectful, patient but above all a person with the biggest noble heart.

I learned to know your beautiful family, your best friend, your pets, every little detail for every trip you would take, your gestures, what bothered you and what you liked.

In the same way, my family and my environment, learned to know you, to value you and to love you, through my testimony.

To the Wéstern Unión family, you taught us about union, respect, to support each other, to make each member of the group feel special, celebrating each birthday, or family event.

You taught us that more than a work environment we were a family and that each member was valuable. You left many memories that made a mark on our hearts and I am sure that each of my colleagues feels the same way.

Your departure has not been easy to accept, but we, the believers in Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior, hope to be together again in eternal life.

Thank you my angel for all that beautiful legacy that you left for all of us.

Love,
Maria

“ Wow. I'm shocked. I worked with Earl for 13 years at WU. Along with work, we laughed, poked fun at each other, and drank in some of the greatest places on earth. The fish in his office we named Wanda. I'll never forget you brother. Frank Capozza

“ Earl was truly a great person and leader. He was always upbeat and smiling while looking at how to get things done and to have fun in the process.

Here is a picture of the results of some fishing we did in Puerto Vallarta after several long work days. This was the morning of our return flight and we were out in the boat before sunrise. Just another example of Earl putting the fun into life.

God bless you Earl.

“ Earl was a wonderful individual and a great leader. He also had a great sense of humor which he used artfully to diffuse many tense situations at Western Union.

Earl had a way of making me feel like I could find the solution to any problem or overcome any obstacle. He was a very effective mentor.

You will be missed, Earl. See you on the other side.

“ Before you all met Earl at WU, he and I met while working at Sperry & Hutchison in 1988 and I saw the personal side of him as a family man and a dreamer. I can remember one day he took me to a plot of land he owed in NY and said to me one day I am going to build a house and a little farm here and that's what he did in the coming years.
