“ It is September, 2024, and I have only just learned the sad news of Fred's passing. I had the joy and privilege of working with Fred as my junior radio officer on the container Cunard Line vessel, "ACT2" in the mid-70s as we sailed between UK/Europe and Australia/NZ. Even then, Fred was a gifted and talented artist, spending his time between watches producing seascapes, in seemingly record time, the quality of which astounded everyone onboard. I am sure the art community is the worse for his passing. My belated condolences to all of Fred's family.

I'm so sad to hear this. I was on the same course at Hull College of Technology. He regaled us with his tales of being in the RAF and showed us some of his paintings then. He was a very talented artist. Condolences to his family and friends. RIP Fred.

“ Fred was always fun to talk with. I enjoyed listening to his stories. He was an amazing artist. One of his paintings hang in my dining room and I can feel the ocean when I look at it. I am thankful to have known Fred.

“ I am very sorry to hear of Fred's passing. It fought the good fight. I always enjoyed seeing Fred at ski patrol functions. My condolences to all who loved him. Especially you Sue.
For a number of years Fred was my "wingman" as a sub at WMHS. I always requested him when I was going to be out of school because I knew my students would be in good hands. He dealt with them with his usual firm intelligence which they appreciated. He was always ready with a good conversation and some perceptive insights. His wit and candor were refreshing. He will be missed. My memories are all fond.
You all will be in my thoughts and prayers. Ralph Cooke
