“ Bob, an upstanding neighbor, husband, father, grandfather plus, and friend. Bob and Erich, another departed great neighbor, would stop their lawn chores and enjoy a scotch on Bob's porch, solving the world's problems one sip at a time.

Classic rock would waft over and bring a smile to our house. Always quick with a smile, Bob freely gave solid, much appreciated advice, as if he were our dad too. His wife Lorraine, and his family, were his great loves. With devotion and concern he would carryout his duties well beyond his physical ability. U.S. Army veteran, well respected shop owner, and community member. Rest in peace knowing that we all will take good care of your loves left behind. A toast to you of the good stuff! Love, the Humbles.
