“ We had such a wonderful time on our last visit to you in New Jersey, as we had a rare opportunity to connect with Tommy as a young man. He shared his quick sense of humour, his wry outlook on life, and his deep love and caring for others, especially his family. I'm so grateful to have had this opportunity, and so, so sorry that his life was cut so short. Tommy lit up the room, and I hope that his memory will continue to provide light to you and to all of us. I'm thinking of you in this dark time - of his mom, dad, brother, grandpa and grandma, uncles, aunts and friends - and hoping that soon you will be able to come to celebration of the life of this amazing person.

“ Sending love and prayers to you Jackie, Daniel, Drew, Steve and your families. From the bottom of my heart I am truly sorry. Thomas was beyond special. Because we live far apart I didn't have the pleasure to see him often or to know him well. But I can tell you this: The times I did spend with him, he made a lifelong lasting impression on me. I will always remember his beaming infectious smile, his authentic presence, his love and compassion for all animals and his passion for adventure. Though I didn't know him well, he was easy to connect with and I feel like I knew him better than I did. His love for his family was evident and may that love continue to surround you and comfort you in the days and years ahead. ❤️❤️❤️

“ So very, very sorry. I remember all the Christmas cards with Thomas and Daniel as little boys, all scrubbed and shiny and smiling. That is how I will always remember him now.

I remember the Christmas cards too. In fact I saved them all. I've always cherished them and will continue to even more now. They are a testament of your beautiful family and Thomas's 23 wonderful years on this earth ❤️❤️

“ Sending love from Toronto, we are heartbroken too and wish so much we could be with you now. Will share one memory: when I think of Tommy I think of coming over to Jacqueline's for Thanksgiving the first time. Dan and Tommy and I had some time together, maybe Jacqueline was running errands? We were all watching some cowboy series about families in Kentucky. I was a bit nervous, or maybe missing my Canadian family, but Tommy started cracking all sorts of jokes about the show. He had a running commentary, like a sports announcer. He was hilarious and so warm, and from then on, I just felt at home, and knew I WAS with family. He welcomed me into his space, in a bright, fun way. He had a beautiful smile, for me it was infectious good spirit and I'll always be grateful for that warmth and kindness when I was feeling vulnerable. You are dearly missed, Tommy, sending love to you.
