“ Sending all my love to you Savi kids at this horrible time. Know that your dad was 1 in a million. He had a heart of gold, though sometimes a little rough around the edges, he would give you the shirt off of his back. He was funny, could tell a good story and loved all of you beyond measure. Of that I am sure. I am so sorry for your loss. XO

“ *I'll never forget when Tom came around the neighborhood after Hurricane Sandy giving out water to anyone who needed it from a Huge water tank in his truck bed. I thought, "who is this new, big-hearted friendly guy who moved in next door?". We are so glad we had the chance to share our neighborhood with Tom, Sue and Tank. It will be a bit less bright without Tom waving from the yard, or his truck, always smiling, in spite of his pain. I know he rests in the arms of our Lord now in perfect peace. He will be remembered. “ Tommy was always talking (maybe bragging) that the best Italian Hot Dogs could only be found in Newark. So he decided that he had to take John and I to Newark for this delectable treat. It just happened to be graduation night for Sue, so she and I listened on the radio to hear her name. (She wanted to get the special dogs instead of going to the ceremony.) I have to admit it was the best hot dog I have ever eaten. Sue started making them herself and has invited us on numerous occasions to have this special treat with her and Tommy. Italian Hot Dogs will always remind me of Tommy "Hot Dog" Savi. Our children grew up calling him Uncle Tommy because he was that special to us.

Rest now Tommy. There is no more pain in heaven. We loved your jokes, your smile and even the picking on John you did.

Our heartfelt condolences to the family. Our prayers go out to you.
