“ I have so many memories with Uncle Billy, but I think one of the ones that stands out the most is when we were camping and we went fishing on the boat and I couldn't wait to fish.... We get out there and I hand him my rod (well because I'm not putting the worm on the hook.... Yuk) well that didn't work. He looked at me and said "you wanna fish, you put your own bait on" (and if you know uncle Billy you know he used a set of different choice words 🤢) I could feel the vomit just want to come out of my mouth.... Ok I can do this, every time I put the hook through that poor worm I felt horrible but I did it. So I catch a fish.... Yeahhh for me. Remember how I just told you how I had to bait my own hook.... That also applies to when you catch a fish, you have to remove it yourself. Thanks Uncle Billy, you will be missed by so many💔.
